Partial sale of Legrand's shares by KKR and Wendel

Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. (together with its affiliates, "KKR") and Wendel announce that funds managed by them and their affiliates are intending to sell in the market a total of approximately 24.3 million shares, consisting of approximately 11.3 million shares to be sold by KKR and approximately 13 million shares to be sold by Wendel. Such aggregate amount represents approximately 9.2% of the share capital of Legrand as of October 31, 2011. The transaction will be carried out through an accelerated book building to institutional investors.

The transaction is part of KKR's and Wendel's strategy to continue to actively manage their investments and to enhance Legrand's stock liquidity and free float. After the sale, the number of shares publicly held (the free float) will represent approximately 88% of the total shares of Legrand.

Following the transaction, each of KKR and Wendel will hold approximately 5.8% of Legrand's share capital and approximately 10.1% of its voting rights.

KKR and Wendel have agreed on a customary 90 day lock-up period, subject to certain exceptions.

Book building will start immediately and will be managed by Société Générale acting as sole Bookrunner. KKR and Wendel intend to issue a further press release upon successfully completing their joint sale of shares.

This press release does not constitute an offer to sell, and the offer of Legrand shares by KKR and Wendel does not constitute a public offering.
