Saint-Gobain continues to grow in Russia

Saint-Gobain is continuing to grow its Insulation Activity in Russia with the acquisition of 25.1% of ZAO ISOROC.

Located in Tambov, ISOROC is leader in the Central region for stone wool products, the most commonly used insulation material in the CIS. The Company reported revenues of €46 million in 2011.

Through this partnership ISOVER is strengthening its position in the insulation market in Russia and extending its product range.

This transaction is in line with the Saint-Gobain Group's expansion strategy in fast-growing high-potential regions and in energy efficiency markets.
