

Special: Save Food Initiative

2016-04-12

The German newspaper Rheinische Post published a special on how packaging can reduce food waste

The renowned German daily newspaper “Rheinische Post” dedicated a special with several articles one of the most important topics when it comes to feeding a growing population: how to reduce food waste. The center of attention is the initiative “Save Food” that is supported by Constantia Flexibles. Read about the history of Save Food, how innovative packaging reduces food waste and how packaging made from aluminum saves more resources than it actually uses.

Click here to go to special (in German language): <http://www.rp-online.de/nrw/extra/save-food/>