

Stahl opens Central Leather Application Leather Lab of Pakistan

In May 2016 the renewed Stahl Application Lab opened in Karachi. The lab focusses on the latest developments of new fashion items and customers services. It also offers physical testing services and outstanding aftercare for new products. With this new Application Lab, Stahl is able to meet the most stringent requirements of shoe upper purchasers and customers in garment, goods and upholstery by offering the newest global solutions and a strong back-up of the aftercare division.

“The decision to renew this application lab is fully in line with our position as industry leader in the Leather Finish, Shoe Finish and Wet-End segment,” say Anwar Iqbal and Ashraf Bajwa, Directors of Stahl Pakistan. The lab will become a hub of new developments since it is the only lab in Pakistan offering the latest available facilities. “The application lab focusses on the latest developments from Wet-End to finishing on a global level and strong back-up services from our aftercare division to fit our customers’ needs.”

State of the art testing

The new Application Lab in Karachi is equipped with state-of-the-art machineries to cater to customers’ needs. “At the lab, we are able to perform physical testing, computerized color matching along with all standard operational processes of Leather Processing”, explain Anwar Iqbal and Ashraf Bajwa.
